FOREWORD

QUICK FACT-FINDING BY USE OF THE FIVE-YEAR INDEX

THIS IS THE THIRD volume in the series of FACTS ON FILE five-year indexes. The book's purpose, like that of its predecessors, is to reduce the time it takes to find specific details of old news stories.

The five-year indexes were designed primarily for use with back volumes of FACTS ON FILE. They direct the user quickly to both the exact volume of FACTS ON FILE and to the page and the position on the page on which the details sought can be found. Researchers have found that the five-year indexes, by giving the date of past occurrences, serve also as an index to the contents of years of old newspapers and other periodicals. This volume, covering the years 1956-60, brings up to date a series that provides speedy reference to the important news of the decade and a half beginning with the year 1946.

The current volume follows the format of the first two volumes in the series. It is a compilation of five one-year news indexes produced for FACTS ON FILE's weekly news reference service and Yearbooks.

HOW TO USE THE FIVE-YEAR INDEX

Indexing Methods—A reference in the FACTS ON FILE news index supplies (1) identification of the news item, (2) the date on which it occurred, and (3) the exact page location where it has been recorded in the news text of a volume of FACTS ON FILE.

Large letters appearing in the margins of news pages serve as guides to the exact location of news items.

News is indexed in FACTS ON FILE both by subject (Accidents, Agriculture, Atomic Energy, etc.) and by the names of individuals and organizations involved. Index headings are arranged alphabetically. Reference lines under the headings appear in chronological order.

For an example of a reference from Index to news text, note on p. 2 of this five-year index the first reference line in the column headed "1956" (the year 1956) under the heading ACCIDENTS:

124 die in Japan panic 1-1, 8B3

"1-1," or January 1, 1956, is the date of the report. "8" is the page on which details will be found in the news section of the FACTS ON FILE volume covering 1956 (Vol. XVI). "B" indicates that the item appears parallel to a large letter "B" found in the margin on p. 8. "3" indicates that the item appears in the 3rd column.

Abbreviations—Standard abbreviations for public and private organizations and the names and titles of individuals are used in the alphabetical name and subject headings throughout the index.

International & U. S. Agencies—Most references will be found under UNITED NATIONS and UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, respectively. See also alphabetical indexing under key words such as AMERICAN, NATIONAL, INTERNATIONAL, WORLD.

Starred Corrections—Black stars appearing in some Index reference lines indicate that a correction should be noted in the FACTS ON FILE news text. The substance of each correction will be found in year-by-year listings at the end of the five-year index. For easy identification, each correction line carries the page reference of the corresponding starred Index line.

Company Earnings—Some company names in the 1959 and 1960 columns carry the bullet (•) symbol to indicate that the earnings of these companies are listed on the final index pages of the 1959 and 1960 volumes.
